It was with great pleasure that I learned about "The Institute of Law and Social Sciences". This institute is fulfilling a long standing need of Sangam City, which lacked an educational facility dedicated to law and social sciences.

The vision of its founder, Mr. K.P. Singh is to provide highest quality education to young and bright students, while ensuring the all round development of their personality.

The credentials of Mr. Kavindra Pratap Singh IPS retired IG Police are impeccable. After a long and distinguished career as a police officer, his initiative in the field of legal education is indeed very noble.

Himself a post graduate in law (LL.M.), his wife and son also adorn the bar of Allahabad High Court.

The institute has the support of several eminent jurists and judges, and I am honoured to be associated with it.

I wish Mr. K.P. Singh and his team and faculty team, the best of luck for the future, and I am sure that the institute will go from strength to strength, and emblazon a glorious path of success!
